'Winterfest' at Washington Park

MILWAUKEE, WI – (January 20, 2011) – The public, families and friends, are invited to attend the 3rd Annual "Winterfest" at the Urban Ecology Center in Washington Park, 4145 W. Lisbon Ave., on Saturday, January 29 from 11am to 5pm.

Free family activities include watching a sled dog demonstration by the Door County Sled Dogs, petting the Icelandic ponies, sledding, ice-skating, snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, and screen-printing on your favorite t-shirt. Although these activities are free, donations are appreciated.

"Washington Park is beautiful in the winter and it offers a natural site close by where visitors can get away from the city and into the middle of nature," said Joey Zocher, Washington Park Program Director.

Free hot chocolate is available. This event is accessible for persons with physical disabilities. Please call (414) 964-8505 at least two days before the program for accessibility accommodations.
