Deputy Arrests Drunk Woman Who Repeatedly Rammed Another Vehicle on Freeway

Milwaukee, WI – A Milwaukee County sheriff's deputy was travelling westbound on I-94 at N. 27th Street when he saw a Chevy Blazer ramming a Chrysler New Yorker just after 3:30 a.m. today, and he stopped both vehicles.

The driver of the Chevy Blazer, Glenda F. Jackson, age 38, of Milwaukee, said she had been at a house party and got in an altercation with the man and woman who were in the car she rammed. The man is the father of her child and she accused his new girlfriend of knocking her down with her vehicle as she left the party. She said she followed them from I-43 southbound at Locust until the deputy stopped them.

Jackson rammed the vehicle multiple times at a high rate of speed, and again after the deputy pulled them over. The deputy noted alcohol on Jackson's breath, and her PBT result registered a .13. She was arrested for DUI-1st and for Recklessly Endangering Safety. If convicted, she faces imprisonment of up to 12 years and 6 months.

Sheriff's detectives are conducting an investigation into Jackson's claims of being struck outside the party by the woman's car.
