SOCIAL SECURITY UPDATES

By Karyl Richson
Social Security Public Affairs Specialist in Milw

STRONG FAMILIES SURVIVE, AND SOCIAL SECURITY HELPS

In June we celebrate National Family Month, which is a great time to reflect on your family and how to make it stronger. As the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services reminds us, strong families share many valuable qualities: trust, commitment, communication, growth, affection, fun, and love.

Strong families are more likely to grow through a crisis, allowing the difficult experience to bring them even closer together.

In the unfortunate event of a family member's death, we want you to know that Social Security is here to help. In addition to the emotional difficulty family member's experience, there is often a financial burden as well, especially if the family's main wage earner dies. In such cases, Social Security survivor's benefits will help.

Did you know that nearly every child in America could get Social Security survivors benefits if a working parent dies? And Social Security pays more benefits to children than any other federal program. Although many people think Social Security is just a retirement program, you should know that Social Security also provides survivors insurance benefits for workers and their families. If you're like most people, the value of the survivors insurance you have under Social Security is probably more than the value of any individual life insurance you may own. And you don't even need to sign up for a separate policy; by working and paying Social Security tax, you are most likely already insured without even knowing it.

Family members who may be able to receive survivors benefits based on your work record include a widow or widower, unmarried children up to age 19 and still in high school, and under certain circumstances, stepchildren, grandchildren, step-grandchildren, adopted children, and dependent parents.

If you'd like to learn more about survivors benefits, and how to apply, you should read our publication, Survivors Benefits, available at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.

You can find additional useful information, such as our survivor's planner and information about how to apply for survivor's benefits, at www.socialsecurity.gov/pgm/survivors.htm.

TELL THEM WHY YOU'RE SMILING (SURPRISE...IT'S SOCIAL SECURITY!)

June 15 is Smile Power Day. Smack dab in the middle of the month — in the middle of the year, in fact — is a holiday dedicated to the power of smiling.

Smiling has many benefits. It can actually make you feel better, relieve stress, and add years to your life. Smiles are contagious, and you can put other people at ease and make them feel happier. Most people can probably agree that there are a lot of good reasons to make yourself smile.

Here's something that will put a smile on your face. Open an online my Social Security account so you can do business with Social Security the easiest, fastest, and most convenient way.

This year, we've had more than five million smiling customers register online for a my Social Security account and use it to easily get the information or service needed — without the need to visit an office or make a phone call.

For example, once you create your online account, you can use my Social Security to obtain a copy of your Social Security Statement to check your earnings record and see estimates of the retirement, disability, and survivor benefits you and your family may receive.

We expanded my Social Security so that if you get Social Security benefits, you now can use your account to view, save, and print a benefit verification letter, check your benefit payment information, and even change your address and your phone number as recorded in our records. You also can start or change your direct deposit information.

So whether you are currently getting Social Security benefits, or you are planning for that day in the future when you do, you can easily access all your important Social Security information by creating a my Social Security account. Just visit www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

Open your online account today, and find out how we've put smiles on more than five million faces this year — and counting. And when someone catches your smile, be sure to tell them why you're smiling.

EXCITING OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW ARTWORK AT INDEPENDENCEFIRST

To further our vision for full inclusion of people with disabilities in every aspect of our community, including making, viewing and exhibiting original artwork, IndependenceFirst hosts an annual gallery exhibition each October, coinciding with National Disability Awareness month. Artwork will be displayed in our reception area, on up to 145 ft. of wall space, for the entire month of October, with an artists' reception on the evening of Friday, October 18, 2013, the Historic Third Ward Association's Gallery Night event.

We are looking for artists with disabilities or artists whose work contains disability-related themes. The artwork is selected by a panel of local art professionals, and is chosen based on quality and professionalism of the work, size and appropriateness of the exhibit proposed for the space provided, and the benefit of the exhibit to the IndependenceFirst and Milwaukee communities.

Click here for an application. Please forward this information to anyone you know who may be interested. This exciting exhibition has featured artists working in a range of media, and we look forward to another engaging exhibition this year.

Growing Through Vision Loss

Wisconsin Family Caregiver Call-In

Take a break just for you and join in!

What is a Family Caregiver Call-In?

It is an opportunity for family caregivers throughout the state of Wisconsin to talk, share, support and learn from others who are also going through the caregiver journey, like you.

Family caregivers face many challenges in providing care for an adult loved-one. Successful caregivers recognize the importance of taking care of themselves so they can continue to give quality care.

When & Where

Each month we will alternate between a call-in chat and a speaker talking on a topic chosen by this group. There is no cost to participate. Toll-free phone call provided by AARP Wisconsin.

The Family Caregiver Call-In will be held the 2nd Tuesday of each month :

June 11, 1-2:30 p.m. in the comfort of your home.

RSVP

Please note that the group size is limited, so pre-registration is required. To register, call Kathy Ford at the Kenosha County Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) at 262-605-6646 or 1-800-472-8008.
