ALZHEIMER'S ASSOCIATION OFFERS PROGRAM

Program to offer tools and insight on Alzheimer's and related dementia-

@AlzheimersSEWI

Learn to Understand and Respond to Dementia Related Behavior

The Alzheimer's Association will host a two-hour presentation called "Understanding and Responding to Dementia-Related Behavior" on Monday, July 18 from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Alzheimer's Association, 620 S. 76th Street, Suite 160, in Milwaukee.

Behavior is a powerful form of communication and is one of the primary ways for people with dementia to communicate their needs and feelings as the ability to use language is lost. However, some behaviors can present real challenges for caregivers to manage. This two hour presentation teaches family caregivers to decode behavioral triggers and learn strategies to help intervene with some of the most common behavioral challenges of Alzheimer's disease.

The program is free of charge, but registration is required. To register, please contact Deborah Klement at 414-479-8800, 800-272-3900 or dklement@alz.org

Alzheimer's Association & Wisconsin Alzheimer's Institute Host Two-Part Series on Alzheimer's and Dementia

As part of it's Breaking the Silence series, the Alzheimer's Association, in partnership with the Wisconsin Alzheimer's Institute will host a two-part series entitled, "Navigating Through The Red Tape" for community members who wish to learn more about Alzheimer's disease or a related dementia. This series will be held on Thursday, July 14 and 21 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Aurora Sinai Outpatient Center, 1020 N. 12th Street, in Milwaukee. There is no charge to attend this program.

Have you or a loved one recently been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease or another dementia? If you find yourself trying to complete stacks of confusing paperwork, or have questions, these sessions are for you. We will review what documents are important to have in place, where to get the documents, how to compete them, and how to access the resources needed for yourself or a loved one. Registration is required – to register contact Nia Norris at 414-219-5159 or ncnorris@wisc.edu

Tools And Recommendations For Healthier Aging

The Alzheimer's Association will present a community workshop called "Healthy Living for Your Brain and Body: Tips from the Latest Research", on Tuesday, July 12 from 6:00 – 7:45 p.m. at the Martin Luther King Public Library, 310 West Locust, in Milwaukee.

For centuries, we have known that the health of the body and brain are connected. But now, science is able to provide insights into how to make lifestyle choices that may help you keep your body and brain healthy as you age. Join us to learn about research in the areas of diet and nutrition, exercise, cognitive activity and social engagement, and use hands-on tools to help you incorporate these plans into a plan for healthy aging.

There is no cost to attend this program, and it is open to all members of the community. Registration is not required.

The Alzheimer's Association is the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer's care, support and research whose mission is to eliminate Alzheimer's disease through the advancement of research; to provide and enhance care and support for all affected; and to reduce the risk of dementia through the promotion of brain health. For more information about Alzheimer's disease or local services visit www.alz.org/sewi or call the Alzheimer's Association 24/7 Helpline at 800-272-3900.

SOCIAL SECURITY UPDATE

@SocialSecurity

By Bob Trotter

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist in Milw

WE'RE WORKING TOGETHER TO SECURE TODAY AND TOMORROW

Your first job is a landmark occasion. You're meeting new people, making professional connections, and probably cashing that first paycheck. You might be a little surprised when you see a portion of your earnings go to a tax called "FICA" for the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. This deduction goes to Social Security and is your way of helping us secure your today and tomorrow. It's our job to keep the safety net of Social Security strong through your incremental contributions.

Understanding how important your contribution is takes some of the sting away because your taxes are helping millions of Americans. By law, employers must withhold Social Security taxes from workers' paychecks. While referred to as "Social Security taxes" on an employee's pay statement, sometimes the deduction is labeled as "FICA." This stands for Federal Insurance Contributions Act, a reference to the original Social Security Act. Sometimes, you will see "OASDI," which stands for Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance, the official name for the Social Security Insurance program.

The taxes you pay now mean a lifetime of protection — for retirement in old age or in the event of disability. And when you die, your family (or future family) may be able to receive survivors benefits based on your work.

You probably have family members — grandparents, for example — who already enjoy benefits that your Social Security taxes help provide. Social Security is completely solvent through 2033. At that point, retirement benefits will be reduced to 75 percent, unless changes are made to the law. In the past, Social Security has evolved to meet the needs of a changing population — and you can count on Social Security in the future.

Because you're a long way from retirement, you may have a tough time seeing the value of benefit payments that could be many decades in the future. But keep in mind the Social Security taxes you're paying can provide valuable disability or survivors benefits, if the unexpected happens. Studies show that of today's 20-year-olds, about one in four will become disabled, and about one in eight will die before reaching retirement.

To learn more about Social Security and exactly what you're earning for yourself by paying Social Security taxes, take a look at our online booklet, How You Earn Credits, at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10072.html.

We're doing this job together. The small amount you contribute with every paycheck allows us to help millions of retired workers, disabled people, and veterans. You can learn more about how we're with you through life's journey at www.socialsecurity.gov.

PREPARATION STARTS WITH INFORMATION

Your parents were there for you when you were born. They've been with you through the most important achievements of your life. Now it's your turn to show them that they can count on you. As your parents get older, they may need help making decisions. When you volunteer to become a representative payee, you're supporting your parents and their future.

A representative payee is someone who receives Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments on behalf of a person not capable of managing the funds on his or her own. As a representative payee, you would make sure your parents' basic needs are met by using the money to provide them with food, clothing, and shelter. Any leftover money goes into an interest-bearing account or savings bond for your parents' future needs. You're responsible for keeping records of expenses, and we request yearly reports to see how you've used or saved the benefits.

Other representative payee duties include knowing your parents' needs so you can decide the best way to meet those needs with the benefits provided and telling us about any changes that may affect your parent's eligibility for benefits or the payment amount.

If your parents receive Social Security or SSI benefits and are unable to manage their finances, or you think that may be the case in the future, take the time to become familiar with the responsibilities of a representative payee and consider becoming one.

To learn more about becoming a representative payee, you can read our publication, A Guide for Representative Payees, at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs and visit the webpage, "When People Need Help Managing Their Money," at www.socialsecurity.gov/payee. Or, call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) to request an appointment.

Take the steps to ensure your parents have a safe and comfortable future. After all they've done for you over your lifetime, volunteering as a representative payee is just one way to show how much you care for and appreciate them. Social Security will always be there for you and your parents through life's journey.
