

Youth Transitions

Empowering safe, healthy, and meaningful lives by connecting older adults and individuals ages 18 to 59 years of age with disabilities to resources that promote independence and inclusion, giving them choices for living in, and giving to our community.

Generally, students and families are concerned with and dealing with what options they may have after leaving high school. ADRC staff can start assisting youth at age Seventeen years and Six months with disabilities to make the transition from the youth system of care to the Adult Publicly Funded Long Term Care Programs. We provide Option Counseling to connect families with other community resources.

Assistance includes:

- Applying for Long Term Public Care
- Guardianship Options
- Information about the Covered Services
- Supportive Decision Making
- Community Resources

Outreach activities are coordinated with school districts, parent and guardian groups, and education and vocational groups.

Our goal is to work together with other agencies to ensure the family receives the services and support that promotes the quality of life to pass to their children.
